

Aaron Dimmock Bio

Aaron and his wife, Kim, have been married for over 25 years and are blessed with the presence of four children in their lives – Camden, Kinsey, Amelia and Peyton. A retired Naval Officer and Aviator, Aaron has had the privilege of serving in various managerial and leadership positions for over 20 years. Most notably, he served as the Navy Representative to the Senior Advisor to the Secretary of Defense for Military Professionalism at the Pentagon, the CEO of a Navy Recruiting District, and a mission commander and instructor pilot during multiple tours of duty. He is currently the Deputy Director for Operational Excellence and Head of the Missouri Leadership Academy. A graduate of the United States Naval Academy, Aaron is currently working toward his Ph.D. while studying how candor shapes and sustains group performance.